In 1981 BBC Radio 4 produced a dramatisation of J. R. R. Tolkien's The Lord of the Rings in 26 half-hour stereo installments. The novel had previously been adapted as a 12-part BBC Radio adaptation in 1955 and 1956, and a 1979 production by The Mind's Eye for National Public Radio in the USA. Like the novel on which it is based, The Lord of the Rings is the story of an epic struggle between the Dark Lord Sauron of Mordor, the primary villain of the work, and an alliance of heroes who join forces

The Lord of the Rings (BBC Dramatization, Consumer Edition) This is a wonderful Radio/Audio Drama of Tolkien's famed "Lord of The Rings" trilogy. It is SO much better than the BBC's radio version of the "HOBBIT". Don't judge this set if you have only listened to the 1970's BBC Radio Drama of the Hobbit.

I first listened in 1981 to this version of The Lord of the Rings when it was aired on BBC Radio in 26 episodes. Also bought it when it appeared as an audio cassette box set, and then in CD form. Despite the subsequent film adaptation by Peter Jackson I still prefer this audio version. Was always disappointed that Tom Bombadil was omitted.
