Character Development Step 1. Introduce him early, by name. The biggest mistake new writers make is introducing their main character too late. As a rule he should be the first person on stage and the reader should be able to associate his name with how they see him.. Naming your character can be almost as stressful as naming a newborn.

Most people have trouble coming up with cool character names, which is why some kids end up with names like Vagena (true story) or Gaylord (Gaylord Focker is truly the worst name ever). But for fiction writers it's harder because you have to come up with a dozen or so character names for every single story or novel.
